FixtureControllId

Type: Int32

Each control, i.e. controllable attribute of a fixture, is assigned a number.

Example in <http://forum.avolites.com/viewtopic.php?f=21&t=5189>

...this is a special ID assigned by the Titan system and references the specific attributes within a fixture. There are a number of fixed ID's which I have listed below and relate to common attributes. Some are specifically created depending on the fixture type. For the purposes of this guide we only need to refer to the fixed ID's. In this example the control ID is 16 which is for dimmer.

Generally there are only fixed IDs for attributes that are handled in some special way in Titan, this might be that they are used by the colour picker or specialized Attribute Editor functionality. This means that even relatively common attributes such as Shutter do not have a fixed ID because there isn't special functionality associated with them. All other attributes will have IDs generated for them dynamically, these can be determined using Programmer.Editor.Fixtures.GetControllIdFromName.

ControllIds

Filter:

Control	Remarks	Control Id (hex)	Control Id (dec)
Dimmer	The intensity control of a fixture.	0x10	16
Pan	The horizontal position control for a fixture.	0x20	32
Tilt	The Vertical position control of a fixture.	0x30	48
Cyan	Cyan component used in subtracted colour mixing.	0x40	64
CyanAdditive	The amount of cyan in the output colour of a fixture.	0x41	65
Magenta	Magenta component used in subtracted colour mixing.	0x50	80
MagentaAdditive	The amount of magenta in the output colour of a fixture.	0x51	81
Yellow	Yellow component used in subtracted colour mixing.	0x60	96
YellowAdditive	The amount of yellow in the output colour of a fixture.	0x61	97
Red	The amount of red in the output colour of a fixture.	0xf0	240
Green	The amount of green in the output colour of a fixture.	0x100	256
Blue	The amount of blue in the output colour of a fixture.	0x110	272
